

Field days coming up near Loma and Turner

MSU Northern Agricultural Research Center (NARC) and MSU Extension will be hosting two field days near Loma and Turner Montana on Wednesday, July 19. The Loma field day will begin at 9:00 a.m. north of Loma near the Terry Mckeever farm at 2088 Houston road. The Turner field day will begin at 5:00 p.m. near the Max Cederberg farm located north of Turner at 32755 Turner Road. A barbeque hosted by CHS Big Sky will follow the Turner field day.

Dr. Jessica Rupp (MSU Extension Plant Pathologist) will educate producers on pulse diseases. Dr. Phil Bruckner (MSU Winter Wheat Breeder) will speak about successful winter wheat varieties for the Turner and Loma area. Peggy Lamb (MSU NARC Agronomist) will share research data and evaluate spring wheat varieties seeded at the MSU NARC test plot.
